MOTION FOR ATTORNEY’S FEES, COSTS, AND SERVICE AWARD; AND

JUDGMENT

Re: Dkt. Nos. 465 and 471

United States District Court
Northern District of California

The Court previously granted plaintiffs’ Motion for Preliminary Approval of the Class Action Settlement in this matter on November 16, 2021. (Order Granting Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement (“Preliminary Approval Order”), Dkt. No 453.) As directed by the Preliminary Approval Order, on February 14, 2022, plaintiffs filed their Motion for Attorney’s Fees, Costs, and Service Award. (Dkt. No. 465.) Two weeks later, on February 28, 2022, Apple filed a response to plaintiffs’ motion, objecting to the amount of attorney fee’s as high. (Dkt. No. 467.)

On March 25, 2022, Steven Wytshyn, a U.S. Developer, Founder, & CEO of Cosmosent Labs, Inc., filed an objection to the settlement. (DKt. No. 469.) On April 29, 2022, plaintiffs filed their Motion for Final Settlement Approval and a response to Mr. Wytshyn’s objection. (Dkt. No. 471.) The Court held a hearing on June 7, 2022 on the pending motions.

Having considered the motion briefing, the terms of the Settlement Agreement, the arguments of counsel, and the other matters on file in this action, the Court GRANTS the Motion for Final Approval. In general, the Court finds the settlement fair, adequate, and reasonable. The provisional appointments of the class representatives and class counsel are confirmed. The Motion for Attorney’s fees, Costs, and Service Award is GRANTED IN PART AND DENIED IN

1 $3,500,000 in litigation costs and that named plaintiffs Donald Cameron and Pure Sweat
2 Basketball, Inc., shall each be paid a $5,000 incentive award.

3 I. BACKGROUND

4 Plaintiffs filed their initial class action complaint on June 4, 2019, and their consolidated
5 amended complaint on September 30, 2019, against defendant Apple, Inc. alleging that Apple 6 willfully acquired and maintained monopoly power, or attempted to gain monopoly power, by 7 refusing to allow iOS device users to purchase iOS apps and in-app products other than through its 8 own App Store. Plaintiffs' amended complaint alleges the following claims against Apple: (1) 9 violation of the Sherman Act –Monopolization/ Monopsonization (15 U.S.C. § 2); (2) violation of 10 the Sherman Act-Attempted Monopolization/ Monopsonization (15 U.S.C. § 2); (3) unlawful 11 business practices and violations under California Business and Professions Code, § 17200, et seq.
12 (“UCL”); and (4) unfair competition under California Business and Professions Code, § 17200, et 13 seq. (“UCL”).

14 Following class and merits-based discovery, plaintiffs moved for class certification on 15 June 1, 2021. On August 11, 2021, Apple filed its opposition to class certification. After extensive 16 negotiations, the parties reached a settlement, and plaintiffs moved for preliminary approval of the 17 class settlement on August 26, 2021. On November 16, 2021, the Court granted plaintiffs' Motion 18 for Preliminary Approval of the Class Settlement.

19 II. TERMS OF THE SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

20 A. Monetary and Structural Relief

21 The settlement provides $100,000,000 in monetary relief and structural relief in six areas 22 of particular concern to the iOS developer community. (See Ex. A, Settlement Agreement). The 23 Settlement Agreement appears to have been the product of arm's length and informed negotiations 24 with the assistance of an experienced mediator. The relief provided for the Class appears to be 25 adequate, taking into account:

26 (i) the costs and risks associated with trial and appeal;

27 (ii) the effectiveness of any proposed method of distributing relief to the class, including 28 the method of processing class member claims.

- 1 (iii) the terms of any proposed award of attorney’s fees, including timing of payment; and 2 (iv) any agreements required to be identified under Rule 23(e)(3) (in this case, none).

3 Moreover, the Settlement Agreement appears to treat class members equitably relative to 4 each other. The Court notes that it is particularly aware of the risks of trial in this case having 5 tried and written a 185-page decision in Epic Games v. Apple, Case No. 4:20-cv-5640-YGR.

6 In terms of structural relief, under the Settlement, Apple has agreed to maintain the 15-7 percent commission tier for U.S. developers enrolled in the Small Business Program for at least 8 three years after Final Approval. (See Ex. A § 5.1.1.) Next, Apple has agreed to revise its App
9 Store Guidelines to permit developers of all app categories to communicate with consenting 10 customers outside their app, including via email and other communication services, about 11 purchasing methods other than in-app purchase. (See id. § 5.1.3.) Third, for at least three years
12 after Final Approval, Apple will continue to “conduct robust experimentation to drive continuous 13 improvement” in App discoverability, including in ways that will “give new and high-quality apps
14 a chance to be found.” (See id. § 5.1.2.) Fourth, Apple will expand its pricing tiers from 100 to 500 15 (by March 31, 2023),<sup>1</sup> and maintain those tiers for at least three years from Final Approval. (See 16 id. § 5.1.4.) This enhanced pricing freedom will allow iOS developers to more carefully calibrate 17 their prices to compete and enhance revenues. Fifth, Apple will create an appeal process, which 18 will be available to any developer who “believes that there has been unfair treatment by Apple in 19 the review of any of the U.S. developer’s apps, or in-app products, or updates.” (See id. 5.1.5.)
20 Apple will be required under the Settlement to maintain this appeal process, and the website
21 callout, for at least three years. (See id.) Finally, in terms of transparency, for at least three years 22 from Final Approval, Apple will publish an annual “transparency report” that (at a minimum) will 23 provide (a) meaningful statistics on the number of apps rejected and reasons why, (b) the number 24 of customer and developer accounts deactivated, and (c) objective data regarding search queries
25 and results, and the number of apps removed from the App Store. (See id. § 5.1.6.) The Court 26 finds these structural benefits are valuable to the settlement class.

B. Attorney's Fees and Costs

Under the Settlement Agreement, class counsel agreed to seek attorney's fees plus reimbursement of class counsel's costs and expenses. The parties also agreed that Apple shall pay named plaintiffs up to $5,000 each as an incentive award in exchange for a general release of all claims against Apple.

C. Class Member Release

Settlement Class Members and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, representatives, agents, partners, successors, and assigns shall have fully, finally, and forever released, relinquished, and discharged any and all past, present, and future claims, actions, demands, causes of action, suits, debts, obligations, damages, rights and liabilities, that were brought, could have been brought, or arise from the same facts underlying the claims asserted in the action, known or unknown, recognized now or hereafter, existing or preexisting, expected or unexpected, pursuant to any theory of recovery (including, but not limited to, those based in contract or tort, common law or equity, federal, state, territorial, or local law, statute, ordinance, or regulation), against Apple, Inc. for any type of relief that can be released as a matter of law, including, without limitation, claims for monetary relief, damages (whether compensatory, consequential, punitive, exemplary, liquidated, and/or statutory), costs, penalties, interest, attorneys' fees, litigation costs, restitution, or equitable relief.

D. Class Notice and Claims Administration

Pursuant to the Settlement Agreement, the Court appointed Angeion Group to administer the settlement and to contact the class members in the manner set forth therein and including the attachments contained within the Preliminary Approval Order. Class members were given until March 21, 2022, to object to or exclude themselves from the Settlement Agreement. Only thirteen of the total class members opted out and only one member objected to the class settlement.

III. FINAL APPROVAL OF SETTLEMENT*A. Legal Standard

A court may approve a proposed class action settlement of a class proposed to be certified only "if the court, after hearing and on finding that it is fair, reasonable, and adequate," and that it meets the

1 requirements for class certification. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2). In reviewing the proposed settlement, 2 a court need not address whether the settlement is ideal or the best outcome, but only whether the 3 settlement is fair, free of collusion, and consistent with plaintiff's fiduciary obligations to the class.
 4 See Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1027 (9th Cir. 1998), overruled on other grounds by 5 Dukes, 564 U.S. at 131. The Hanlon court identified the following factors as relevant to assessing a 6 settlement proposal: (1) the strength of the plaintiff's case; (2) the risk, expense, complexity, and 7 likely duration of further litigation; (3) the risk of maintaining class action status throughout the trial;
 8 (4) the amount offered in settlement; (5) the extent of discovery completed and the stage of the 9 proceeding; (6) the experience and views of counsel; (7) the presence of a government participant;
 10 and (8) the reaction of class members to the proposed settlement. Id. at 1026 (citation omitted); see 11 also Churchill Vill., L.L.C. v. Gen. Elec., 361 F.3d 566, 575 (9th Cir. 2004). In reviewing such 12 settlements, in addition to considering the above factors, a court also must ensure that "the 13 settlement is not the product of collusion among the negotiating parties." In re Bluetooth Headset
 14 Prods. Liab. Litig., 654 F.3d 935, 946–47 (9th Cir. 2011).

15 Settlements that occur before formal class certification also "require a higher standard of 16 fairness." In re Mego Fin. Corp. Sec. Litig., 213 F.3d 454, 458 (9th Cir. 2000). In reviewing such 17 settlements, in addition to considering the above factors, a court also must ensure that "the 18 settlement is not the product of collusion among the negotiating parties." In re Bluetooth Headset
 19 Prods. Liab. Litig., 654 F.3d at 946–47.

20 B. Class Definition and Basis for Certification

21 The Settlement Agreement, attached hereto as Exhibit A, defines the class as:

22 All former or current U.S. developers of any Apple IOS application
 23 or in-app product (including subscriptions) sold for a non-zero price 24 via Apple's IOS App Store that earned, through all Associated 25 Developer Accounts, proceeds equal to or less than $1,000,000
 26 through the App Store U.S. storefront in every calendar year in 27 which the U.S. developer had a developer account between June 4, 2015 to the date of the Agreement (August 24, 2021). For class definition purposes, the 2015 calendar year consist of June 4, 2015 through December 31, 2015. The 2021 calendar year shall consist of January 1, 2021 through April 26, 2021. Additionally, excluded from the Settlement Class are (a) directors, officers, and employees
