UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA SAN JOSE DIVISION

STEPHEN HADLEY, et al.

Case No. 5:16-cv-04955-LHK

v.

[Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a), (b), (e), (h)] Judge Lucy H. Koh

KELLOGG SALES COMPANY

OPPOSITION TO MOTION FOR PRELIMINARY APPROVAL [377]

Counsel who certified a "Californian Class" ("California-Class Counsel") claims that the new nationwide deal has "no obvious deficiencies"—as before. DE 377 at 24. This third-time-charm backfired again as before, because one can spot obvious deficiencies, and the burden is on Plaintiffs to show all of why it deserves preliminary approval, and not "if it has no 'obvious deficiency', it is worth approval."

Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 23 placed an affirmative burden on California-Class Counsel, such that "[a] party seeking class certification must affirmatively demonstrate his compliance with the Rule—that is, he must be prepared to prove that there are in fact sufficiently numerous parties, common questions of law or fact, etc." Wal-Mart Stores v. Dukes, 568 U.S. 338, 349 (2011). As California-Class Counsel repeatedly seek to settle on a nationwide basis—of which does not have a certified litigation class, and failed twice—the standard must be heightened:
"Confronted with a request for settlement-only class certification ... [rules] designed to protect absentees by blocking unwarranted or overbroad class definitions—demand undiluted, even heightened, attention in the settlement ECEIVED

California-Class Counsel is basically asking "a delegation of judicial power to the plaintiffs, who can obtain class certification just by hiring a competent expert."

West v. Prudential Sec., 282 F.3d 935, 938 (7th Cir. 2002) (Easterbrook, J.). Maybe it takes a statistician to tell whether the "quintiles" are fairly allocated, or what else might be really "behind the scenes"—but cy pres is for sure behind the scenes.

The "black box" combines with "cy pres in, coupons out" still offers grave concerns that the "Class" still will get next to nothing from "black box" mysteries, so that a substantial cut might really go to cy pres. Cy pres is permitted in this Circuit, only when a direct distribution will be "infeasible given that each class member's direct recovery would be de minimis." Lane v. Facebook, 696 F.3d 811, 821 (9th Cir. 2012). But clearly, Class will get some funds anyway, making "infeasibility of distribution" impossible, and the Class deserves the entire fund pro rata without resorting to cy pres, which has full of problems as an Article III standing's redressability problem, see Brief for the U.S. as Amicus Curiae, Frank v. Gaos, 139 S. Ct. 1041 (2019), 2018 WL 3456069, at 15-28 (U.S. July 16, 2018), or as a settlement fairness / allocation / excess fee problem. See Dennis v. Kellogg Co., 697 F.3d 858 (9th Cir. 2012). Pearson v. NBTY, 772 F.3d 778 (7th Cir. 2014).

Third, Californian-Class Counsel appears to have abdicated its duty for the entire Californian class, by seeking to settle a nationwide class that treats

Californian claims undervalued: Whether or not one is in California class, "every Class Member who makes a claim will be subject to the same claims process that provides the same remedy based on the claimant's purchase history." DE 377 at 27. 1 But it is more than obvious that California-Class' litigable claims have more 2 worth than nationwide non-litigable claims—without a certified class to proceed in 3 a trial. "A fundamental conflict exists where [Californian Litigation Class] 4 members [are] harmed by the same conduct that benefitted [Nationwide] members 5 of the class." Valley Drug Co. v. Geneva Pharms., 350 F.3d 1181, 1189 (11th Cir. 6 2003). The Court should set dates for a trial so that this Court's judicial resources 7 need not be wasted further by endless attempts to settle profitably without real, 8 relief. Or, "[a] district court may decertify a class at any time." Rodriguez v. West 9 Publishing Corp., 563 F.3d 948, 966 (9th Cir. 2009) (citation omitted). 10 11 CONCLUSION 12 For the foregoing reasons, the motion should be denied. 13 Respectfully Submitted, Dated: March 15, 2021 /s/ Shiyang Huang 14 Shiyang Huang 2800 SW Engler Ct., 15 Topeka, KS 66614 (314) 669-1858 16 defectivesettlement@gmail.com Pro Per 17 18 CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE 19 I hereby certify that on March 15, 2021, I mailed the foregoing paper with
