NISCHE DUC. NO 152	RECEIVED NISCEF: 0071
1	THE CLERK: In the matter of AB 514 Doe
2	versus Amherst Central School District.
3	Counselors, please note your appearance, beginning
4	with the plaintiff.
5	MS. COSTANZO: Leah Costanzo for the
6	plaintiff AB 514 Doe.
7	MS. HILLIKER: Julia Hilliker on behalf of
8	the defendant Amherst Central School District.
9	THE COURT: All right. Ms. Hilliker, I think
10	you brought the first motion, so, you may proceed.
11	MS. HILLIKER: Thank you, Your Honor. May it
12	please the Court, I will cover the highlights.
13	There was extensive briefing in this matter, but
14	if for any reason I don't touch on one of the 15	points that the Court would like to discuss,
16	please let me know.
17	Here, as the Court knows, there's been five
18	cases against the Amherst School District all sued
19	separately for various plaintiffs at various
20	points in time. Importantly, and for purposes of 21	this action, this plaintiff is the earliest point
22	in time of any of the plaintiffs that brought
23	actions here. So as discussed in our papers, it
24	is important to put what occurred in context based
25	on what the District knew at the time this

2	With that said, plaintiff brings five causes
3	of action: Negligence, negligent hiring,
4	negligent training and supervision, negligent
5	retention and breach of statutory duties to
6	report.
7	(Discussion off the record.)
8	MS. HILLIKER: Thank you, Your Honor. The
9	first four causes of action in plaintiff's
10	complaint all hinge on whether the District was on
11	notice of Koch's propensity to sexually abuse
12	students. The Fourth Department has been very
13	clear in its case law precedent that notice of 14	other types of misconduct is insufficient. It has
15	to specifically be, as the Court detailed in Lisa
16	P., evidence that the teacher in question or the
17	employee in question had a propensity to sexually
18	abuse students.
19	For example, in Lisa P., evidence of the
20	teacher sleeping in a room with students was
21	insufficient notice. The Court emphasized again
22	it has to specifically be notice of sexual
23	misconduct.
24	The record here establishes, without
25	question, that prior to the Spring of 1981, there

1	is no evidence of any kind that the District was
2	on notice of Koch's propensity to engage in sexual
3	misconduct. As this Court knows, plaintiff
4	herself alleges that she did engage in a
5	conversation with Cardina and Podgorski in the
6	Spring of 1981. But setting that aside for a
7	moment, admittedly, that's a credibility
8	determination at that point in time.
9	Prior to that, however, the record is
10	absolutely crystal clear that there's no notice of
11	any kind to the District of Mr. Koch's propensity
12	to engage in that behavior. Accordingly, the
13	District is entitled to summary judgment on
14	negligent hiring, as well as the other negligent
15	causes of action that relate to any conduct prior
16	to that date.
17	After the Spring of 1981 when plaintiff

allegedly engaged in the discussion with Cardina 18 19 and then, allegedly, Mr. Podgorski, plaintiff, by her own testimony, admits that Mr. Koch cut off 20 all conduct at that point. Nothing further ever 21 happened at school. That is a hundred percent 22 supported by the record. There is nothing to the 23 24 contrary.
