Before SALLY C. MEDLEY, KARL D. EASTHOM, and

ORDER
Conduct of the Proceeding
37 C.F.R. § 42.5

On March 12, 2013, the following individuals participated in the initial conference call:¹

- (1) Mr. Michael Specht and Mr. Robert Sterne, counsel for IVM;
 - (2) Mr. David McCombs and Mr. Thomas King, counsel for Xilinx;
- and
- (3) Sally Medley, Justin Arbes, and Karl Easthom, Administrative Patent Judges.

In preparation for the initial call, patent owner Xilinx filed a motions list. Paper 15. During the call, and consistent with the list, counsel for Xilinx represented that Xilinx intends to file a motion to amend. The parties were directed to the Patent Trial Practice Guide for guidance on motions to amend. See, Office Patent Trial Practice Guide, 77 Fed. Reg. 48766-48767.

More specifically, in any motion to amend Xilinx files, the motion must explain how the proposed substitute claims obviates the grounds of unpatentability authorized in this trial and clearly identify where corresponding written description support in the specification can be found. If the motion to amend includes a proposed substitution of claims beyond a one-for-one substitution, the motion must explain why more than a one-for-one substitution of claims is necessary. 37 C.F.R. § 42.121. In addition and in response to inquiry from counsel for IVM, the parties were directed to the Patent Trial Practice Guide that explains that petitioners may respond to new issues arising from proposed substitute claims including evidence responsive to the amendment. 77 Fed. Reg. 48766, 48767.

IVM indicated that they do not seek authorization to file any motions
