-Ing

Examples Word Origin

 a suffix of nouns formed from verbs, expressing the action of the verb or its result, product, material, etc. (the art of building; a new building; cotton wadding). It is also used to form nouns from words other than verbs (offing; shirting). Verbal nouns ending in -ing are often used attributively (the printing trade) and in forming compounds ( drinking song). In some compounds (sewing machine), the first element might reasonably be regarded as the participial adjective, -ing<sup>2</sup>, the compound thus meaning "a machine that sews," but it is commonly taken as a verbal noun, the compound being explained as "a machine for sewing.".
