TerraVision Open Sourced (/p/terravision/news/2002/11/terravision-open-sourced/)

SRI International has recently decided to release the full source code of its TerraVision web-based 3D terrain visualization system under the Mozilla Public License. TerraVision is the product of around 10 years of research and development by the nonprofit research organization. It is hoped that this release will benefit the visualization/GIS community and provide TerraVision users, new and old, with greater control over the evolution of the software.
