For the second consecutive year, Digeo Inc.'s "Moxi Media Center" software platform won an Advanced Media Technology Emmy Award, the company said Friday.

The National Academy of Television Arts & Sciences recognized Moxi this year for outstanding achievement in the category of creation of nontraditional programs or platforms.

The award was presented as part of the 57th Annual Technology & Engineering Emmy Awards Thursday in Princeton, N.J.

"We are laser-focused on giving cable operators the technology and applications needed to provide their subscribers with the best experience possible and, based on the Academy's voting on our new features, we are doing just that," Digeo CEO Mike Fidler said in a prepared statement.
