After a manuscript has been accepted for publication, the author's organization will be requested to honor a charge of $110 per printed page (one-page minimum charge) to cover part of the publication cost. To comply with the U.S. Copyright Law, authors are requested to sign an IEEE copyright form before publication. This form, a copy of which is found in the most recent January issue of the journal, returns to authors and their employers rights to reuse their material for their own purposes.

CONTRIBUTIONS

The PROCEEDINGS OF THE IEEE publishes comprehensive, in-depth review, tutorial, and survey papers written for technically knowledgeable readers who are not necessarily specialists in the subjects being treated. The papers are of long-range interest and broad significance. Applications and technological issues, as well as theory, are emphasized. The topics include all aspects of electrical and computer engineering and science. From time to time, papers on managerial, historical, economic, and ethical aspects of technology are published. Papers are authored by recognized authorities and reviewed by experts. They include extensive introductions written at a level suitable for the nonspecialist, with ample references for those who wish to probe further. Several issues a year are devoted to a single subject of special importance.

IMPORTANT: Prospective authors, before preparing a full-length manuscript, should submit a proposal containing a description of the topic and its importance to PROCEEDINGS readers, a detailed outline of the proposed paper and its type of coverage, and a brief biography showing the author's qualifications for writing the paper (including reference to previously published material as well as information on the author's relation to the topic). If the proposal receives a favorable review, the author will be encouraged to prepare the paper, which after submittal will go through the normal review process. Guidelines for proposals are available from the address below or the PROCEEDINGS home page: <http://www.ieee.org/pubs/transjour/proc>.

Technical letters are no longer published in the PROCEEDINGS. Comments on and corrections to material published in this journal will be considered, however.

Please send proposals to the Editor, PROCEEDINGS OF THE IEEE, 445 Hoes Lane, Piscataway, NJ 08855-1331 USA. (Telephone: 732-562-5478, fax: 732-562-5456, email: j.calder@ieee.org.)

COVER This special issue covers the subject of automated biometric systems that are used to verify individual identity using unique biometric measurements of the human body. Our cover illustrates the concept of one of the growing number of applications of these systems.
