Interpharm Press is concerned about the impact of the worldwide loss of trees upon both the environment and the availability of new drug sources. Therefore, Interpharm supports global reforestation and commits to replant trees sufficient to replace those used to meet the paper needs to print its books.

Pharmakos-2000

Through its Pharmakos-2000 program, Interpharm Press fosters the teaching of pharmaceutical technology. Under this program, complimentary copies of selected Interpharm titles are regularly sent to every College and School of Pharmacy worldwide. It is hoped that these books will be useful references to faculty and students in advancing the practice of pharmaceutical technology.
